

ABOUT BODRUM

Bodrum is a charming and fascinating town 270 km south of Izmir, on the Aegean coast. Bodrum is one of the most popular destinations throughout the world for tourists.

Bodrum town is a famous resort location, both among Turkish and foreign travellers. The heart of Bodrum beats loudest in the narrow streets clustered around the bay where there are many shops, restaurants, bars and discos. The wider Bodrum peninsula attracts a discerning international clientele attracted by the area's climate, heritage, leisure activities and culture.

Bodrum casts a magic spell. It exerts a lasting fascination on everyone who visits, irrespective of age, nationality or sex. Bodrum has a constant stream of visitors and a large international community that further enriches the already varied and vibrant native culture.

BODRUM – FOR ALL SEASONS

Although known mostly as a summer holiday destination, Bodrum is becoming increasingly popular with visitors in the other seasons. The reasons are many, but probably foremost is the chance to enjoy its attractions more intimately by avoiding the rush in high season. Unlike many holiday resorts Bodrum does not close its shutters at summer's end but continues an active though less frenetic life of its own. The colourful bazaars are open on their scheduled days, temperatures pleasant and local people have more time for each visiting guest.

Bodrum today is a trendy, cosmopolitan holiday resort popular with families and with the younger set from all over the world. It is a choice destination of those interested in the rich historical heritage and natural beauty of the region, while its prestigious ranking has attracted a whole galaxy of stars of the Turkish entertainment world. It can truly be said that this diversity of its visitors matches well the variety of its offerings, and is an attraction all of its own.

BODRUM PENINSULA - A NEW INTERNATIONAL GOLFING DESTINATION

The Turkish government has decided to designate the Bodrum peninsula as an area to be developed and marketed as a world-class golfing destination. Plans are already lodged for six further golf courses in the area, which will benefit property owners in Flamingo Golf Resort by increasing rental potential and future capital appreciation.
